▲ Corps of Litter Bearers to be Organized-Resolutions From the Lynchburg Home Guards - The Cavalry Service.

Much comment has recently been made in Chicago newspapers in reference to the absence of a delegate from Virginia to the convention held there last week to consider and perfect plans for having the militia of the country represented both during the Exposition of 1893 and at the dedicatory ceremonies of the buildings in 1892.

Adjutant-General McDonald was seen by a Times reporter yesterday in reference to the matter, and stated that Brigadier-General Charles J. Anderson was appointed a dele-gate in pursuance to instructions received from Commander-in-Chief McKinney, but gate in pursuance to instructions received from Commander-in-Chief McKinney, but that General Anderson was unable to attend on account of sickness. General Anderson also failed to appoint an alternate, hence the reason of Virginia not being represented. Major-General Nelson A. Miles. United States Army, presided at the convention, and caused quite a sensation by declaring his belief that the National Government was as much interested in the National guard, as a whole, as the States were in their respective organizations, and deliberately proposed that Congress be asked to make an appropriation covering the entire cost of transportation, and that the War Department take entire charge of the encampment. ORDERED TO CHICAGO

General Albert Ordway, of Washington, en-General Albert Ordway, of washington, en-thusiastically supported General Miles' pro-position, and went so far as to express the opinion that the National guard of every State ought to be ordered to Chicago on a given date in 1893, "on the service of the United States," It was estimated that the United States." It was estimated that the expense of bringing to Chicago, providing a suitable camp, feeding and paying the men't regular army rates for two weeks' term of duty, would be $8,000,000. After considerable argument pro and con, resolutions were adopted to be presented to Congress, providing for the execution of General Miles' plan, and fixing the date of the angangument from Angust 5 to 20, 1888. A General Miles' plan, and fixing the date of the ancampment from August 5 to 20, 1803. A committee was appointed of representative men from several States to present the plan to Congress and work for its adoption. It was also decided to have only 10,000 militiamen in the dedication parade of 1802. These will be drawn mainly from near-by States, with, it is hoped, small detachments to represent each of the thirteen original States. each of the thirteen original States.

LITTER BEARERS.

For some time past the medical staff of the First regiment have been formulating a plan for the permanent organization of a corps of litter bearers to be taught the work pertaining to the ambulance service. Major William F. Mercer, surgeon, and Captain E. P. Turner, assistant surgeon, will begin the formation of this corps on Monday. November 15th at 8.30 P. M. in the headquarters of the First regiment armory.

This corps is designed to be composed of new men, in preference to detailing men from the several companies of the regiment. They will enlist as other men are now enlisted, but will only be expected to perform the duty required of this special branch of the service. both with instrument and by flashes.

Those desiring to become members of the corps can forward their application for membership to Major Mercer, Captain Turner, or to the regimental adjutant, Captain E. R.

A corps of this kind ought to attach to its membership every young man who desires to obtain such knowledge as will always render him able to properly care for any friend who may receive an injury, and thus enable him to do a charitable act in a proper manner and often to save life.

NEW DRILL REGULATIONS.

All of the companies of the regiment are waiting anxiously the using of the new drill regulations. Conpany A received on last Priday night instruction in formation of the company and certain movements of the new drill. The novelty of the change attracted many spectators, and for once the old soldier was unable to criticise. There are many disadvantages which the cavalry labor under where troops are located in the country. wealth throughout Christendom and nowhere is it making greater progress than in America. Master Masons are eligible to the Scottish Rite degrees and nearly every zealous Mason may be found in this branch of the famous old order.

The bodies of the Scottish Rite in Richmond are noted throughout the country for their activity and for their select personnel.
For many years they have been officered by accomplished and enthusiastic Masonic workers, and in very few of the larger cities are the degrees conferred in finer style. Last year the first annual reunion of the Richmond bodies was held and was highly successful, and on next Saturday, November 14th, at 1 o'clock P. M., at St. Albans Hall, the second annual reunion will begin. These reunions annual reunion will begin. These reunions are held for the benefit principally of out-of-town candidates, such candidates being thus enabled to receive degrees in the space of two or three days, which would ordinarily require several months.

The rituals and lectures of the Scottish Rite are singularly attractive to cultivated persons, the rituals being both religious and dramatic, and the lectures profoundly philosophic. When such men as Bishop Dudley and other busy churchmen devote a considerable por-tion of their time to Scottish Rite work, the public may know that these high degrees, as they are called, have a noble and religious

The question as to the salary of the clerk of the Third Market is expected to come up for a final settlement. The matter had been thoroughly discussed in the Committee on Claims and Salaries and that body unant-mously recommended to the Council to fix his salary at $100. When the matter came up in the Common Council some objection was raised for the reason that the business of the new market in the eyes of some of the members did not justify the payment of the same salary to the clerk which is alloted to the clerks in the other two markets. The matter was referred to the Committee on Third Market, with the expectation that the salary would be out down. The committee on Third Market, with the expectation that the salary would be cut down. The committee met just before the meeting of the Council last Monday and decided to recommend that the salary be fixed at $720 per year. There were only three members of the committee present, and two of them—Messrs, Hughes and Carneal—voted in favor of fixing the salary at that amount, while Mr. Stratton

Hughes and Carneal—voted in favor of fixing the salary at that amount, while Mr. Stratton advocated the amount recommended by the Committee on Claims.

In the meeting of the Common Council the report of the committee was adopted after the amount of $100 had been substituted for $720. In all probability the Board of Aldermen will concur in the action of the Common Council and make the salary of the clerk the same as that of the same officials in the other two markets, Mr. Anthony Griffiths, the clerk of the Third market, has during the first month of the existence of the market collected over $700 on stall rent and premiums and paid it into the city treasury. His duties are almost the same as those of the clerks in the other markets, and the business is constantly increasing. Of the eighty stalls all but two or three have been rented, and the market seems to be a success financially. a success financially.

Day's Happenings in Manchester and Vicinity-Church Notes of Interest_Dwelling Burned A Negro Found Dead.

MANCHESTER BUREAU RICHMOND TIMES, Twelfth and Hull streets. Branch Office, 509 west Thirteenth street. The fire of Friday night, an account of which appeared in this paper yesterday morning, was one of the largest conflagrations that have occurred in this vicinity for many a day, and the loss was one of the heaviest ever sustained in this community.

The tannery works of Messrs. A. D. Shotwell & Co. are situated on the Richmond and Petersburg railroad near Perry street. The works are the largest of the kind in this vicinity and employ about forty operatives, and were in full operation at the time of the fire.

The Alert Fire Company promptly responded to the call, and in a very short time had one stream upon the fire. As the nearest plug to the works was at Cowardin avenue and Perry street and the present supply of hose is very limited, only one stream could be obtained. Thus it was that the firemen worked under heavy disadvantages. The buildings, too, were filled with combustible material and burned very rapidly.

The engine-house and tannery-shed were totally destroyed, together with the contents, which included a large amount of bark and leather. The machinery is an entire wreck. The loss is estimated at about $25,000, and there is about $20,000 insurance. The only buildings saved was a house used for the storage of leather and the bark shed, which contained about $18,000 worth of bark.

fall to overcome the neglect by maugurating entirely new methods and introducing progressive and wide-awake ideas.

First, we bought our wraps after other merchants had loaded their racks with guessed-at styles. We purchased popular prevailing fashions right over the heads of our competitors at fully 25 per cent. less than they bought, getting the right styles at the right prices, placing us ahead of all other cloak departments. We then engaged a corps of experienced cloak-makers to alter any defect of fit or shape or trimming you can detect. As "Mr. Barnes of New York" Tuesday and is usual with everything, the Wednesday at the New Richmond Theatre. wraps were marked in plain price marks. We invited the public and the invitation stands to come and criticise and examine our wraps as often as you please without any compulsion to buy, You need not wonder what this has led to. From the opening week the cloak sales have doubled and trebled. This has necessitated constant purchases, and the daily arrival of new styles assures you that whatever style of wrap you buy here will be almost
